SALINE MEN AT ST. LOUIS FAIR.

Notes from Globe Democrat.

Charlie Leonard, of Saline County, Mo., came down to judge the cattle. Mr. Leonard says Marshall had one of the best street fairs last week held in the state, and that his town has advanced rapidly within the past year in the way of improvements. Crops in Saline, he says, are good.

H. C. Taylor, from the Elk Hill Stock Farm, Keping, Mo., is here with ten head of high bred trotting horses, among them a pair of high stepping mares. Mr. Taylor says he will have a public sale of horses at Marshall, Mo., on October 12 and 13.

C. Logsdon, of Saline County, brought down a pair of matched mares which attracted a good deal of attention from the fact that they possess speed and are fine lookers.

REDCLAY RELEASED.

Two years ago, the criminal court of Pettis county convicted Isaac and Samuel Redclay, two cattle dealers of the Hughesville district, of forgery, sentencing both to terms in the penitentiary. Isaac Redclay, when released in Jefferson City recently, was immediately placed under arrest by Sedalia officers and brought to that city, where he appeared for trial Monday. The case against him however, upon motion of the prosecuting attorney was dismissed and Isaac Redclay, again finds himself no longer under the penalty of the law. His brother, under the good behavior rule, will be allowed his liberty in a short time.
